Megan Munoz, Ed.D.
Criminal Intelligence Specialist

Megan Munoz is a Criminal Intelligence Specialist at the National White Collar Crime Center (NW3C). She is a highly accomplished intelligence analyst, instructor, and military veteran with over 18 years of intelligence analysis experience. She is skilled in the instruction of the intelligence tradecraft, having served as a Program Manager, Master Instructor, and Director of Education for agencies in the Department of Defense, state law enforcement, and the private sector. She has taught in various other countries throughout her military career

Dr. Munoz is also a graduate and undergraduate level adjunct professor at several universities and assists in the creation of collegiate-level curriculum for programs relating to criminal justice, intelligence analysis, cyber security, counterterrorism, and global security. She has a bachelor's degree in international relations, a master's degree in international security and intelligence studies, and has obtained a doctoral degree in education at the University of Southern California (USC). She wrote her dissertation on white supremacy radicalization in online gaming adjacent communities focusing on platforms like Discord, Steam, Twitch, Roblox, DLive, and discusses the difficulties in monitoring and eradicating threats on these platformsShe is a member of the International Association for Intelligence Education (IAFIE) and the International Association of Law Enforcement Intelligence Analysts (IALEIA). She is an IADLEST certified instructor both nationally and internationally.

4901 Dickens Rd., Suite 110
Richmond, VA 23230
(804) 273-6932

5000 NASA Blvd., Suite 2100
Fairmont, WV 26554
(304) 367-1994